1997 GMC Z-71. It runs and drives good. It has the 350 V8 with automatic transmission. I think it has all of the power options, power windows, power locks, cruise control, CD player, cold AC, hot heat, towing package, etc. I am interested in selling it for $4500 or I may be interested in trading it for a classic truck, sport car, motorcycle, four wheeler, gas golf cart, land, or just something different. I used to use it to pull my camper but sold it last year. Lately it has been used more as a family car than a truck. I drive it to take kids back and forth to school, games, and to haul off the trash. It has been very reliable and has never given me any problems. Last year I drove it to NJ to help my in-laws move. I pulled a car on trailer all the way back to SC. It never gave me a single problem the entire trip. It does have some of the usual problems. The drivers door hinges are starting to sag like normal but if you lift a little on it it shuts fine. The passenger inside door handle is broken but a new one can be bought for $25. I never ride on that side so I have not replaced it. The seam around the tail gate is starting to separate from carrying a golf cart. You can't really tell by looking at it but it is there. It does have a salvage title. I am not sure about the history of the title. I do not know if it was wrecked, stolen, or what the issue was but whatever the problem was it is in the past. It runs, drives, and looks like nothing was ever wrong with it. It has around 200k miles but you would not think it has that many by driving it. If you are interested in a trade please include a picture and info on it. Also due to spam I will only respond to emails that include a phone number. If no number is included I will not respond. If you have any questions please just ask. Thank.
