Hey guys! I am looking for an HVAC professional to install a new aluminum evaporator coil for me in my attic and to charge my system with R-22. I have a split unit. (Model #s Below) Currently mine has a pin hole leak(s). On the quote that I have, it says replace indoor evaporator coil. Summer is around the corner and I have family coming in from out of town in June. The current quote that I have is $886.90 from AirServ. I have to buy a ring soon so money is tight. Can anyone beat that? Please send quotes to the Craigslist email address provided and I will email you back from my actual address. Thanks!
