Hi there, folks!

My mother is a doll, but when she quit smoking last year she gained a lot of weight. Thank God she quit smoking, but now she needs to get the weight off and improve her overall health. Since I am currently not close to her (in proximity) I am looking for a bone-fide angel to help her twice a week - for either a barter or inexpensive compensation.

I need to make a vitamin-rich smoothie for her that she can refrigerate and drink daily. The recipe makes enough for 3-4 days, so I am looking for someone to come over twice a week. I am also looking for someone to help her exercise; very small movement at first - moving legs and arms gently, etc.

Nothing strenuous to start.

I need someone trustworthy. Only good-hearted people need apply!

If I hear of anything "fishy" happening, I will be there in an instant, so no weird people need apply.

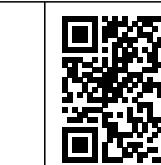

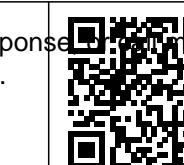

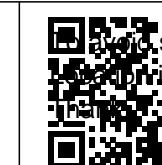

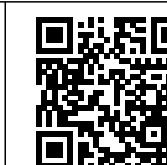

In exchange, I will help YOU in whatever way I can.

Need music lessons via Skype?

I am also great at finding goods at discounts.

Tell me what I can do for you in return!
