A friend rescued this dog from the streets. She was emaciated and dehydrated. She is putting on weight now. About her: She is super sweet, super lovable and so well behaved. She is good around other animals (her chihuahuas and mine, and our cats, good with my daughter). She has been in back yard and dog parks and done very well. She knows some commands like sit, down and stay. You tell her "No" once and she listens. She loves to cuddle when laying down and lay her head on your knee or shoulder. I can't say enough good things about her. She is protective with her family. When it comes to the front yard with other animals tho she is very protective. Ask me if you need more details and I will elaborate on anything you need. This little girl deserves a very good family. If I could I would keep her in a heartbeat. And they do not have a fenced yard. Her name is Stella and she is about 1 1/2. She has been spayed and has gotten all her shots. One thing tho. She needs a home with a fenced back or front yard. No chains! And she must me a inside dog other than potty breaks and walks. Once you meet her you will see why we want a loving home for her. For a bigger size dog she has no issues at all for indoors. This pic is after a little weight on. She could gain a few more. She has the cutest expressive!
