We adopted Lexi in February with the hopes of aiding myself with ptsd, and she did. She is up to date with all shots, but needs to be spayed if you decided to. Unfortunately, due to our new work schedule, we can no longer provide enough time for her. Please do your research about this breed before contacting me as they require lots of attention. Text message me if you want to see her picture or if you would like to arrange a meeting. There will be a rehoming.
