Hi! I studied Korean for a few years and now it seems to be getting lost. I'm looking for a friend interested in learning it or a speaker of it that would like to hang out sometimes and practice or study. If you have never studied it before that's fine, I can use the review and don't mind helping you. I know a lot about the language and culture but just need the extra motivation to keep learning.

Also, I'm a 27 year old female so it would be nice to have others around the same age but not.
