Hello!

I am accepting a few new cello students over the summer.

Ages 8 and up
(younger age can be accepted depending on the student)
Beginner, intermediate and advanced levels

About me:

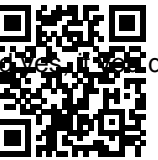

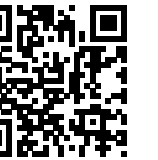

Having received a tremendously rich training from world-renown pedagogues and schools such as the New England Conservatory, Rice University and Boston University, I primarily perform and teach in the Boston area. I have been teaching for the past 14 years, and I am very dedicated to my students. My students have done very well over the years, winning auditions into all-region and all-state orchestras.

Teaching:

Lessons cover a wide range of topics. It's usually up to the individual student as to how quickly lessons will move or how much we will cover. Here are the main topics--

- Foundational techniques
- Body awareness
- Approaches to various musical styles
- Music theory

-How to practice
