I have my baby snuggles up for adoption. He is a two year old Shih Tzu/ poodle. As by the name, you could tell he is a big snuggle bug. My husband and I are moving, and have not been successful in finding a place where could keep him. We have had him since he was born, and he is great with kids, but a bit overprotective to strangers. He would do best in an environment where he is free to run at times as he loves to play and explore. He will be your side kick, and Will follow you everywhere, sometimes making you crazy, but he makes it up by being so!
