They take up hours of your time answering questions and asking for you to give them all of your info. Make it so you take work off to attend the study and cancel only a day to 3 days before. Oh and if you speak to Dan the main guy he'll tell you ya it happens. If you let him know you are a lil upset he will tell you, you are wasting his time and hang up on you. You can email the so-called manager of the whole thing Tobi and she wont even reply to your email. Rudest people ever! Warning others so it doesn't happen to them. People have families to feed and when they are told they have a chance to make $300 for a 2 day study we will drop everything this market research company could care less. Do not waste your!
