I have two unsexed babies that have been declared officially weaned! They are 8 weeks old now. Pictures are of them :) Babies are $275, DNA sexing available for additional $20. The babies are pulled from the nest just before their eyes open, so they are 'imprinted' to humans when they do open their eyes, making them as tame as you can get any bird.

I take excellent care of my birds, who get high quality, varied diets and supplements hand prepped by an Avian nutritionist. I care about where my babies go so I will ask questions to get to know you. The plus side of this is that I am here for questions and support with your new addition! If interested feel free to respond.
