I have two brand new Mad Catz Street Fighter IV FightStick Tournament Edition controllers. They are for the Xbox 360 but will also work on a PC. They were purchased, had the box opened, life happened, and then proceeded to sit on a shelf in the basement for years. I'm cleaning house right now and these should go to someone who will use them.

There were very limited quantities produced of this FightStick. The tournament edition (TE) stick is far superior to the standard edition stick. It comes from the factory with authentic Japanese-style Sanwa Denshi joystick & buttons that replicate the arcade controls. Although if you've found this listing I'm guessing you already knew all of that.

Here's the Amazon page with all of the reviews

They're selling for $300 each new.

I'm selling two for .
