Hello hello! I'm looking to connect with like minded individuals adventuring coast to coast. Please read the whole thing, or happily move on. I wrote the message for clarity-Thank you, look forward to hearing from everyone!

My name is Megan. I have been traveling for almost a year now and I'm beginning my individual travels starting from Southern California and heading East. I haven't seen the South or any of the East Coast so my goal is to connect with people setting rides up that way, or anyone with housing, or even people that this has peaked their interest and they want to connect and meet up somewhere along the way. The trip is pretty up in the air, and I'm open to anything. I feel more of the details will blend together in the moment.

Little about me:

I've recently started really getting into yoga, work children and plants, spend much of my time reading. I'm on a classic binge, and always accepting recommendations. I'm also a writer and artist of sort. I'm creative, and open minded being a SoCal native. 420 friendly. I'm down to earth, with a wide variety of music taste, and feel I'm pretty good company. I delve into spiritual beliefs, and have a major love for people. My biggest inspiration in traveling is to connect with more humans and share this phenomenal oneness experience. I spent some time traveling through the Pacific Northwest and some other western states; I have my license and have experience driving many different types of cars far distances at all hours. I'm happy to help driving, help out around any properties, and always looking for the extra help with small duties that could get me some cash. My funding is usually tight, but for Rideshares that need something, I can always contribute. I'm heading East for a fair exchange.

I'm looking to begin my journey from Southern California ready to go, and, and looking to make or share my way East to the East. I'm open to anything, and like to ride to places from Joshua Tree/Palm Springs and keep going whichever way the winds blow. My goal is to make connections with people in the South and East so that can maybe have direction to head. Plus, it's always fun to be visiting someone.

Hence the message searching for friends/rides/hosts available around.

I have a few friends I've already made in different states, and I'm hoping that I can connect with more people through here or maybe even find another road buddy. **Not interested in your sexual exchange, really, I am sure. Thanks for the flattery, it's just not the type of story I'm writing and I believe the right type of people are out there-holla! (:

Also, please don't flag, this is real-as well as me, haha. It might take me a little to reply to your emails and texts and all the phone calls are hard to answer, so it is best to try email or text. Please include your picture, I like to know who I'm talking to and will ultimately ask you anyway so skip the step.

Love using ride shares to get around, send me a message or text if you're looking for a good chat and the we'll have a grand old ride.

Remember, please include a photo of you in your message, you see me-I see you. (:

Love n light,
Take care.
