Can you find missing punctuation and incorrect homonyms in a text file, stay focused, and finish projects in a timely fashion? We've got a job for you!

We are a small, focused technology company that has been leading our market for many years. Due to growth in our automated web services, we are now looking for an intelligent, detail oriented, web-savvy, quick learner to join us as part of our Quality Assurance Team.

The incumbent will work from home with a computer and high speed Internet connection to perform quality assurance on text transcripts and closed caption files. Hours and location are completely flexible.

Solid English language skills, unquestionable ethics, and entrepreneurial spirit is required. Ability to work independently, coupled with attention to detail and Internet research skills are required. Ability to read and speak Spanish is a definite plus.

PAY
 Hourly plus performance bonus.
