Homeless College Student needs a place to Sleep

On this road called life, no one wants to suffer. No one wants to lose everything. No one wants to be a homeless. But these things happen in life. When we least expect it, life sets us a challenge to test our courage and strength.

The storm of life hit me terribly. This storm seems too heavy, but I am still surviving. I am broke, but I am alive. For every struggle, I learn something that otherwise I would not know. For every pain, I have hope. Who am I?

I am a college student who is going through a rough time. I am living one of the hardest times of my life. I would like to ask for your help. I am financially unable to afford my rent and I need a place to stay. I am willing to do household chores, maintain your yards, take care of your pets and maintain your property in exchange for a place to sleep. I can also extend my service to elderly/physically and mentally handicapped people who need assistance as well.

I am a courteous, reliable and positive human being. I strive to live a modest and soulful life. If you are willing to help me, please text me.

Thank you for your kindness. I look forward to hearing from you.
