We rescue cats in Baltimore. There are many wonderful cats who were once pets who have been dumped outside and left to fend for themselves. Baltimore City is now spraying rat poison in city alleys where these cats live, so they are at high risk for a horrible death by poisoning. We rescue them and find them good homes, and some of these cats want to be outdoor cats. They are ideal candidates for barns.

These cats have been fixed, are vaccinated, and are healthy. If you have a barn or other outdoor safe haven and want a feline or two to help guard against rodents, please, please respond! You will literally be saving their lives and giving them a second chance at life. If you send your phone number we will call you. Thanks for considering these cats!
