I have a healthcare startup that has been very well received by the community for which it is designed. I need a technical cofunder/partner. This is an equity position. I am looking for a partner, not just another developer. You don't have to give up your full time job (if you have one) until we go live and have some revenue. You do have to earn your equity by working after hours. You must be an unusual multi-talented person with stellar skills. The site is 90% ready for prime time. I did the vast majority of the design and development. I can't possibly do it all myself.

If you are tired of selling widgets or working for companies with uninspiring services or products whose only motive is profit, please reply with your impressive CV and why you would be a great partner. You may become part of something that actually helps people live happier lives and make.
