Hi! I'm placing this post because my friends and I just took over ownership of a local Southern Illinois vape shop and, unfortunately, the previous owners totally duped us and stuck us with months of unpaid bills. We got the bills caught up, however now all the money we had invested for stock is gone and we now need money to purchase more stock. We are seeking a temporary investor who can invest $500- $2500 into the company for us to purchase stock. Guaranteed return as our stock sells HELLA fast! We can work it out to pay you back IN FULL, plus an additional 10% within, for sure, three months. That gives us time to cycle the stock, reinvest a few times in said stock, sell all of that and have money to pay you back plus, finally, have us squared away so we no longer need help. No bs, no games, everything would be in writing to protect you and us. We are just three really motivated young people (two laid back guys and one smart hottie chick (that's me! yay!) who work for/run the company) who are taking over in something that, with our other college education and connections for marketing and schwag, we know we can turn a major profit with. Within our first week and a half we had already turned our $600 stock investment into DOUBLE. Unfortunately, as I said, the previous owner duped us into believing all the bills were paid and up to date, which, again, they were not, so we had to use almost all of that to get us squared away. We are now caught up, but, as I said above, now we need a little investment for stock. If you are interested, please send me as much info about you, including references and why you want to take part in this, as well as your full name, phone number so I can speak to you directly, and, if you feel comfortable, a facial photo just so we know who we are speaking to. Thanks for your interest! Have a happy rest of your day!

PS-- We also are doing a lot of fundraising for causes such as the shooting of a local man as well as Caps for Cancer AND, on top of that, are planning a marketing campaign at a local concert coming up so I know we will be driving a lot of traffic into the store soon. We just can't launch our marketing campaign with no stock in the store to.
