This is a complete custom built trailer I made for my service dog, it was not built using any sort of plans or designs so it is one of a kind. It does a nice size trunk in the back which has a locking handle the inside is carpeted with wood panel sides, the cabin part is foam insulated. The lights on the trailer are an all in one turn brake run led style. Also I did install a roof vent for more air. There are two windows on the sides one on the door which has a locking handle(the key is the same for the trunk), and one on the other side and the windows are screened in. the axle itself is acutely two independent torsion axles with five lug 12" tires. The asking price is $2,500, but am willing to look at reasonable offers as well. Any other question please let me know.
