Regardless of the size of your home and property, I will immaculately maintain it in a professional and accomplished fashion in exchange for a live-in situation (preferably with separate quarters like an in-law apartment or sailboat, but that's not mandatory) with a small stipend. As a case in point, I just finished 3 years of transforming a single lady friends very neglected and run down home to immaculate status so that she could sell it for maximum profit, get out of her crushing debt, liquidate her property lien and still have enough cash left over to build her own mortgage free home back in New England. And along the way I gave her personal assisted care and chauffeur service to the doctors and physical therapists office until after her knee replacement surgery was completely healed. I also repeatedly house sat for her while she was back east traveling and took care of her big dog while doing all of her light automotive maintenance with excellent detailing to make both of her cars look and run like new. That is because I have extensive experience in all around indoor and outdoor proactive home maintenance and general repairs including home improvement projects, painting, staining, yardwork, gardening, organic top soil building, lawn maintenance, landscaping, pruning, cured fire wood accumulation, tree/stump removal, storm, spring and fall cleanups which will make your home look and feel like the most immaculate estate in the neighborhood. For the interior, I do proactive maintenance and general repairs including house cleaning, dishes, cooking, shopping, errands and even laundry. I am also an expert in natural or national emergency home preparedness and can home school your children because I am a certified teacher. This is your chance to liquidate the multiple costs of your landscaper, gardener, lawn barber, home repair man, housekeeper and expensive private school tuition bills all at once and save big with me.

As a bit of a perfectionist with an emphatic helping professions background, I understand that a home is a sanctuary where people refresh and recharge so that they can go out and expend their personal energies to achieve and excel at their professions day after day. But a home can be hard to relax in, rejuvenate and enjoy if it should become a bit to much to look after. So for you ladies, I'm the equivalent of the worlds best husband who provides secure peace of mind while for you gentlemen I'm the ultimate domestic support homemaker. And for you busy married professionals, I am both.

Lastly, I am an educated, athletic, non-smoking or drinking man who has 2 Bachelor of Arts degrees (Education /Social Sciences) from Seattle Pacific University and 2 Masters degrees (Education /Guidance and Counseling) from Pacific Lutheran University but learned my valuable skills from growing up on a farm in the mid-west.

Please feel free to call me at anytime if you should have any questions on how I can make and keep your home the restful palace that it was always meant to be for you and your family. If not, please forward this ad to a friend who could benefit from my services. Thank you very much for your support and blessings.
