Write, record, rehearse, perform.

I play guitar, drums, bass, write songs, sing however I can, looking for any youths around here that play together a lot(at least 4x a week) or want to get together and make something real.

I will never have as much money as I will need to travel often, so I am very driven to literally "get my act together" and get a show on the road.

If you like your day job, if you have commitments to your neighborhood, if you couldn't handle the road lifestyle that makes an artist tough and experienced, then there's nothing wrong with that, but we want two different things.

If you need art and music in your life for spiritual and emotional fulfillment, if you play ANY INSTRUMENT, if you have the confidence to speak and the respect to listen, if you want to claim your any-sized spot on history's timeline, if you are AVAILABLE AS FUCK to really create a well-oiled machine on stage, if you know exactly how thankless a fulltime artist's profession can be, and want it anyway, that's cool, hit me up I promise I'm worth a quick chat at least.

Thank you for reading, please please just ask any questions that come to
