Two lab mix dogs need a good home. They are both good with kids, but we are having a third baby and do not have room for them. They'll both lay there while my daughter puts make up on them or does their hair.

They are both around 1 year old and have up to date shots with records. Both are potty trained and spend the day outside, they are crate trained and sleep together in a large kennel. They have not had an accident while in the crate or in the house in months. They are good inside the house as well and love their beds.

Sadie is chocolate and mixed with Great Dane. She is a beautiful, strong dog that loves to play and lounge.

Daisy is a yellow lab we got from Arkansas at a few weeks olds. She is smart and fetches well. I got her to be a hunting dog, but just don't have the time.

I am asking $75 re-homing fee for one or $100 for both. I also have a large crate they both fit in and other items such as leashes, collars, etc. They play really well together but I am willing to split them up if necessary.

Call or text if you are interested. I will only let these pups go to the right home and I must be confident you will treat them right.
