I'll pay $200 a week (depending on how many hours my job gives me, it will increase or decrease per week) till I get to the price of the car or truck being sold. I want something that works and looks nice, this will be my first car. My dad knows a lot about cars, so I will stop by with him to check it out on a day I have off from work. If it has problems that will cost hundreds to fix, I will pay $300 - $400 for it. If it has minor problems, $500 - $600. If it's perfect I'll go for $700 (or higher if you have patience for me to pay for).
