Hi I'm very talented I dance, act and sing a little but I want to become Internet Famous. I guess I can start by making vine videos a bunch of my friends started from there but I want a partner, who is a funny, silly person like me so that we can get famous together. I been through the struggle, don't have enough money so u can't go to auditions or anything like that but I guess we can start on youtube, vine, or instagram and maybe even Facebook. I want to start this now I'm just way to funny and way to talented to just let my dreams slip away. If anyone knows a group that finds people and can show off my talent for free km willing to join it! I'm 22 years old work a midnight security job and my dream is to be famous... I know this sounds crazy but I really want it to happen and I know it will! I guess I'm just scared to start on my own because I need ideas. If you are someone who is looking for a partner to do funny videos with or either just looking for someone to promote or even someone to join your group I'm here! Contact me!
