I'm in a band called Last One There. We are currently looking for a drummer who has chops and is willing to commit to shows and eventually/possibly touring. We currently have an ep on iTunes, Amazon, google play, and spotify titled Is A Rotten Egg. We are seeking someone who can learn our current material, write new material, and be willing to be a full functioning member of this band. Must have decent equipment, transportation, ability to practice at least once a week. Jam space would be a bonus but we have means if necessary. Please contact if
