I recently purchased a pregnant hamster, and she had 12 babies. They are now 4 weeks old and ready to go to new homes. Syrian hamsters are solitary, and should have approximately 360 square inches of space. These babies are all hand tame, though still quick little babies, and will come with a small Baggie of food and care sheet. They will not come with a cage, and you must bring your own travel cage to pick up. There is a small rehoming fee of $10 to make sure they don't become snake food. If the picture is still up, that baby hamster is still available. Prefer texts to 203 518 0513 or e-mails. Please do not call, as I won't be able to.
