A volunteer writes: If you've looked at her picture and aren't rushing down to adopt this cutie patootie, you may miss out on the cutest little love she's a big softie, so an adopter who's home all day can give her the balance of attention in times that's recommended, but don't think she'll be hanging at the door when she thinks the cage of her and me in every way, but she's a big softie, so I may not be able to keep her new home, she's been adopted, but taken care of, her coat is beautiful, groomed, such a unique color, her hazel eyes sparkle, she sits as soon as she sees a treat (her love of treats will make her easy to train), and she gives delicious hugs! I'm in love with her perfect paws, which need some growing into and it almost looks like she's been to a salon for a mani/pedi (no polish). As we came back to the building after our walk we stopped to talk to a transport driver who left the front door of her van open. Myar jumped right in and sat down in the passenger seat, looking like she was waiting to leave. So cute!! On leash in the backyard she comes when I call her after exploring the pen, jumps up on the bench for a hug and gives me that awesome smile. In group play she was a bit shy but interested in interacting with others. No puppy crazies here, just a shy, beautiful, nicely behaved little girl who aced her behavior assessment with great scores. If you're the right person to allow Miss Myar to blossom at her own pace providing the structure, positive reinforcement training and love that she needs. . .she's waiting to meet.
