Hello,
I am selling my vintage Ovation Legend 1117. I've had this guitar for 3 years and I just don't play acoustic as much as I play electric. This guitar sounds amazing! It is in excellent condition and comes with the original case. In the pictures i tried to make the blemishes to the case as visible as possible. Also, the storage compartment inside the case has lost it's staples but still works great (see pictures). I didn't staple it back together because I wanted to keep this guitar and case as original as the first day I bought it. The guitar has a tiny chip on the clear coat of the finish. The blemish is barely visible (see pictures) and you can only really notice it if you run your finger across it. The blemish is only a couple of mms in circumference. On the 20th (final) fret the inlay has a cursive inscription (see pics).

The ovation website has a field where you can enter the serial number of the guitar and find out what year it was made. According to ovation's website, the serial number (209876) of this guitar says it was made in 1974.
