The most common (incorrect) beliefs about the music business go something like this:

1. To get anywhere in music, you have to get REALLY lucky
2. You'd be better off getting a non-music related job first, before doing music
3. You won't make it if you don't have connections with important people in music business
4. You have no chance, because there there are too many competitors around you

The above 4 myths have been proven to be what they are...MYTHS. You will only hear people who have never worked in the music business make such claims.

In addition to the 4 lies about the music industry (such as the things above), there are 7 core concepts that all successful musicians have in common that enable virtually anyone who applies these same concepts to 'make it' in music. Check this out to learn what they are: <http://Philly.tomhess.net/MusicCareer.aspx>
