I'm selling my at&t gold iPhone 64 GB. I really do not use it that often so im going to downgrade. its in pretty much mint condition. it has always had a screen protector on the front (the black shown in the pictures) and also on the back. on the back the original plastic cover it came with is still intact. i never used it without a case and never dropped it significantly. it comes with two screen protectors for the front, a ten foot charger cable, and the original charging cable. It does not come with the usb to wall adapter. it comes with the original box and original headphones. I have yet to open the headphones so they are brand new. if u need anymore details then just contact.
