I am moving to Florida and I have some things stored in New Britain that need to make the trip. Also, I'm driving and would prefer to sharing the driving. If you have a truck, I'll suffer through driving alone. If it involves a hitch on the car, I could not drive at all. I don't know the answers, just the questions. The things I'm taking are basically a room full with no beds or other large items. I will pay the person with the right solution to help me make this.
