Seeking Sales People & Distributors that can use Various methods to market our line of products such as Social Media, Phone Marketing,In Person to Small Business, Etc and even through our fund raising program for charities & youth groups,etc. Weekly Checks and Residual Income from your efforts and your team.

28 year old well established California based company seeks Marketers/independent business owners in Midwest (No Boundaries in USA) to be one of the first to introduce our automotive product line to the market.

We offer a fuel catalyst that is guaranteed to improve gas mileage as much as 20 percent(50 to an extra 100 miles per tank) for under 3 bucks per bottle. This product will work in gas or diesel engines. We also offer an oil additive that comes with a lifetime warranty on the customer's engine just for using our product.

Our superior products have been sold commercially for years to several major Fortune 500 companies and are just now available to the local retailers and consumers of USA. All our products are backed with a 30 day guarantee and our company has an A+ with the BBB. Our patented technology will outperform all the other leading brands currently on the market. We have a demonstration video that will blow you away when you see us beat the "leading brands" by over 50 times in a lubricity test.

Your duties will simply be to build our brand how you see fit. You may sell B2B or on an individual basis. You may sell the products yourself or expand the distribution base and earn even more. We are currently just seeking business minded entrepreneurs who want to take a new product line and build a massive business with it. The Midwest is in general, relatively untapped, so the potential there is huge. If you are simply looking for an hourly"job", this is not going to be for you. This is much much bigger than that. We need leaders who can actually see the incredible opportunity sitting in front of them with products that everyone needs but don't know are available yet.

Very serious business minded inquiries only please. If you would rather work for someone else than to work for yourself, please do not reply. Reply with a good number you may be reached at for a brief
