

Possible Revenue Stream

This morning I found a lead for a possible revenue stream that you may be able to harness.

THE JURY IS STILL OUT, but so far so good.

I logged onto the following link <http://direxnews.com/p3331> and signed up for free (no charges whatsoever) at about 10am this morning. I read news stories and for every story I read, they credited my Payza account (you can also use Payal). They will also send a company check. When I reach $2,500 they pay me!

Quite frankly, I'm skeptical, but I was willing to spend about 15 minutes and give it a try. Well, it's 4:50pm and I looked at my account and the balance was $328.00. Now, if they pay me when I reach $2,500, I'll be a happy camper. (I'm still skeptical)

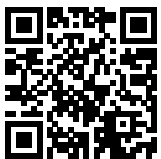

I thought I'd share it with others, like you, who are on CL and looking for ways to earn $$$.

Anyway, click on the link below and try it out! If you find it difficult to follow their instructions, reply to this post and I would be happy to lead you through the process that generated $328.00 for me in about 6 hours where I spent less than 30 minutes online with their program.

power, cursing this problem yet. If I don't get paid $2,000, let the world know. If not, I'll post pictures on CL that harm me and hope the main leading papers on the Internet will pick it up. If it works for you, let me!
