I have four kittens--two males, two females--all free to a good home. Six weeks old, and very friendly and healthy.

One is gray, one is gray with subtle white stripes, one is black, and one is black and brown striped. They will probably have slightly long hair. The mother is part Maine Coon, though a bit on the small side; she is VERY friendly and sweet, and she is a great mother.

The kittens are now eating solid food.

Call or email with any questions (please, no texts). We are on a farm near Stanton, but we could probably meet up in Norfolk.
