Hello, I am looking for any good samaratins out there that is willing to help a friend in need. On June 20 my friend is going to California for hopefully her last chemo therapy visit. I am looking for anyone that is wiling to donate a few dollars to help out with gas monies. I will be driving for her but we need help with funds for gas. If anyone has a few extra dollars that they are willing to give it would be greatly appreciated. With both of us being on disability we have limited income and therefore have no funds for gas. This appt. is very crucial for her. Im not asking for monies for her treatment but to help her be able to get to California. Any amount would be greatly appreciated.

Thank
