I am looking for an investor(s) to help a small business sell automotive products and supplies. I started the company in Feb. I am currently selling products, but need the cash backing.

If there is anybody interested, please contact me to set up a meeting. If you want to be a silent investor that is fine or you can participate as well. Looking to find a person(s) as soon as possible to make this thing fly. I am a very hard working individual that just needs help. Thank.
