Spring 2015 Music Theory Class registration is now open!

Mozart was 5 when he composed his first piano piece, 9 for his first symphony and 14 when he finished his first opera. Don't be discouraged now, it's never too late to learn how to read music!

Our last group just graduated so we have registrations open for another batch!

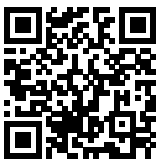

Learning how to read/write music in a group setting is very laid back and fun. Through a 6 month long course you can easily get to a level where you can read and learn new music on your own, write your own sheet music and share your work with other musicians.

No prior experience is necessary. The curriculum is optimized for teaching professional level music theory to beginner level music enthusiasts, advanced instrumentalists and singers who would like to improve their sight-reading skills.

Wednesday Group 7:00pm - 9:00pm
Sunday Group 2:00pm-4:00pm

Tuition: $90/month
(+15% discount as long as we have a full group)
