Are you looking for affordable and durable solutions to satisfy your company's needs? Do you have a project that could use Microsoft expertise? I can help.

I am a knowledgeable professional proficient at producing and constructing Microsoft Excel applications that meet the needs of my consumers. Past projects have focused on automated reporting, data mining, code refining, and macro writing. I specialize in custom report creation/automation, data manipulation, and macro generation/VBA programming.

I offer competitive rates and will gladly provide a price range for all projects. If my services can be of benefit to you or your business, please email me a scope of work for evaluation.

I have many satisfied customers that have been very pleased with the quality of my work.
Happy to talk through your!
