Are you a college-aged female looking for some extra cash for the summer months? Immediate openings for various levels of participation in an ongoing project centered on being ticklish. Basically, if you're ticklish, you qualify for this project.

Pay is negotiable depending on what you'd like to do. Roles range from simple back-and-forth email questionnaires to actually volunteering to be tickled for this research. The choice is obviously yours to make.

This is 100% on the up-and-up and despite the randomness of the project, rest assured that at no point will you be subject to any questions and/or experiences that you wouldn't do with a friend. You would be helping the project out, so your comfort level is of the utmost importance.

Message for more details. Hope to hear from lots of!
