i just want to throw a little party or something at someone's house. I'm back from college for the summer and me and my friends are just trying to make some summertime memories. Anyway, if you own a house/cabin/loft/big apartment or if your parents are out of town and you're trying to have fun and meet some new people email me and we'll get sh*t started! No pay or anything but great memories are priceless...right?

P.S. only serious inquires i know it's not the most serious post but i don't like my time being wasted. Also either email or text with responses i will most likely not pick.
