White middle aged businessman looking for 10 younger 'partners' who are local community members with a world view of the economic stress we are in as a society. Hoping to build 10 Tiny Houses together as a Cooperative. I have a location where we can store materials, learn together, experiment, and finally help each other build our Tiny Dream Home. I envision a team effort with 4 components.

1. Design Group to research best practices, research online info, etc
2. Legal Group who can research options for zoning, insurance, options for final site locations. Establish a 'contract' between coop members for time and money input to be equitably distributed.
3. Materials Procurement who will assemble needed materials, find and buy used trailers, create crowd source funding opportunities etc.
4. Contractors/builders who will assemble tools and supplies, plan work days and work processes. Lead the construction.
