If you are like the majority of GMAT test takers, your previous tactic was to go into the GMAT exam, anticipating that what you prepared would appear on the test. You probably noticed that it did not work. Now it's time for you to get right down to business.

I'll help you determine your strong and weak areas, and we'll come together to enhance your effectiveness on anything the GMAT throws at you.

Pick any math subject. I will design a one- or two-hour session to teach you the knowledge and abilities to master that section. I've created my own, personal detailed book of more than 3,000 practice GMAT questions, which we will use for tutoring and practice. You will end up amazed by the thoroughness of your ability after just one lesson.

Whether it is combinations, or inequalities, we can work together to make any section a strength rather than weakness. Let us get started by doing a trial tutoring session on the topic of your choice.

I look forward to hearing from.
