Location California https://www.genclassifieds.com/x-528175-z

Available to work with rising high school seniors or graduate candidates to conceptualize, draft, and refine personal statements for applicant personal statements.

My name is Allie and I'm a 3rd year MFA at Ohio State in creative nonfiction writing and ethical storytelling, living in Oakland for the summer. My BA in English is from Brown University. I have 6 years experience teaching college writing, as well as experience working privately with high school students on college entrance essays.

I charge on a sliding scale, and work with each family/individual to determine fair compensation for the services that will meet their student's needs. Sessions (which include in-depth editing and revision feedback) run $100-$180.

East Bay, San Francisco, a private home or cafe, I'm happy to meet wherever's most convenient for you.
