For the next few weeks I need a personal assistant/motivator to ensure that I complete the tasks to which I have been assigned and to motivate me to complete these tasks ASAP. I've recently ended up as a self employed individual and need someone to not only keep my schedule, but to bug the hell out of me to complete them.

Normally my Girlfriend would do this but I need additional help as she now lives in a different location. I'm looking for a summer individual, most likely someone who has time in between some sort of undergraduate degree. All you'll have to do is wake me up, hound my ass to complete certain projects including . . . STUDY TIME for additional state legal Bar certifications . . . WORK OUT ensuring I work the muscles at least 45min to an hour a day. . . SHOPPING which I hate, and I'm also terrible at cooking and, REMIND ME OF THINGS including my appointments.

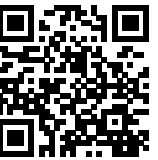

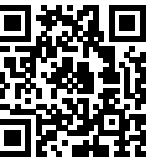

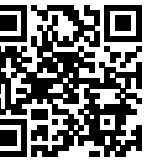

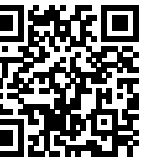

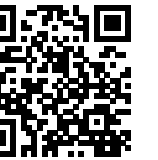

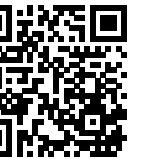

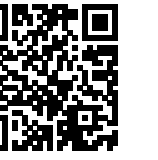

SO if you think you can handle this, which I assume would only take a few hours out of your day, I'd pay well. BUT. I NEED SOMEONE CONSISTENT!

Pay is negotiable. I'm not a hard boss to work for and in my private life I'm even more "Laisser Faire", as long as the job gets done.

And as a side note, if you've thought about a legal career or a career as a paralegal, I'd be more than willing to attempt to help you with either via experience.

Just be cool, send a head shot and a reason why you could do this job well, and I'll respond as long as you seem legitimate. Probably should be local. I'll pay well if you work well. Oh and if it's a great match, there's a possibility for further employment if the (my GF) little lady approves.

Cheers!
