I have one male dachshund left. He is the runt and there is a rehoming fee. He has very rare colors with a white star on his chest! The parents are both pure bred and are on site. I know what he is worth and am not affected by the ridiculing messages that come from people who expect me to give him away for 100$. I am a breeder and have done this long enough and expect the slander while KNOWING what he is worth. Thank you to those who aren't harassing me and are seriously inquiring about Runt. He's a beautiful puppy and will make an excellent dog to the right.
