Are you interested in doing something different than just more alterations? Would you like an opportunity to use your sewing skills and knowledge of fabrics to create something new and unique? We are looking to start a new line of clothing and need someone who can work with our concepts and designs and turn them into a couple of prototypes that we can use to test, refine and ultimately submit for mass production. You need to have your own equipment (sewing machine, etc...), intermediate or better sewing skills, general experience with different types of common fabrics and have a patient and easy going manner (as we do). :-) Prior experience creating small garments from scratch is greatly.
