FIRM, giveaway price! 2006 Ford F150 XLT extended cab 2 wheel drive with 6'6" bed. I am the original owner of this truck. It has 131K miles on it, most of which are easy miles back and forth between Montana and California on I-15. 5.4L V8 engine. Oil always changed with semi-synthetic. It has the factory tow package. Full power on everything. Ice cold A/C, Tilt, Cruise Control. Brand new Hankook Dynapro HT tires ($600). Interior is in excellent shape. There is one very small tear in the side of the driver's seat. Maybe 1/2" long. Everything works like new. Aftermarket Pioneer bluetooth audio system with Focal speakers front and rear. Recent brakes and new front rotors. Truck runs perfectly but has just a few issues, which is why I'm selling it at this price:

- 1) Minor hail dimples around body. Small hail dents on roof. One small dent on rear left above bumper (fire hydrant jumped behind the truck).
- 2) Hood paint is peeling. I had the hood replaced after hail and repainted, but the paint job didn't last.
- 3) There is a high-pitched whine from the rear end. Might be wheel bearings or could be differential bearings. Seems to coincide with new tire installation, so I am suspecting a wheel bearing. Worst case scenario, you can pick up a low mileage differential at a salvage yard and drop it in.

Price is FIRM. Blue book is $11.
