After years of dealing with the last generation possession, I have had it. I have thought long and hard on how to make it to the Best of Craig's list and have a hard time coming up with 'all awesome' descriptions on estate furniture. Basically dad died and I am tired of moving it. I refuse to add a whole house sized edition to my place just to house family things. someone else can use it as I don't want to be a museum. So here goes and hopefully there it goes....

Montana Furniture Oak desk, 2 book cases. and desk chair that lets you sleep on the job it's so comfortable. The whole taco for $750

Vintage dining room table and 6 chairs. This is the real deal from the 1950;s Labeled Maple Slide on the table. Has 3 leaves to expand large enough to feed the Walton's and all their cousins at Thanksgiving or goes small enough to seat 2 for a cozy anniversary dinner with candles and wine. $300

Just some wierd little walnut finished tables from Georgia that mom hauled home from her parents estate. $75 to $150

Black and white stone wear $50

Vintage china complete but for 1 coffee cup (mind you not a coffee MUG as women back then served coffee and tea in a delicate fashion) $150

Coffee table and end table the whole enchilada $150

I am uncovering more every time I look at this place so stay tuned for more editions to the free advertising of the All Awesome (I finally got to say it) Craig's List
