And they admit being a BYB! BYB's at their finest. And breeding a rescue dog to pad your wallets, shame on you! Poor dog is better of gone now. "Had a better life" being a breeder for you? You are sick. If you knew you had a dog that would run ,then you make damn sure they are CONFINED at all times! And I don't breed dogs, don't need to as I have a regular job to pay my bills. Take your own advise and get a real job, loser BYB. One compliment for you, your male is gorgeous and a great example of the breed (doesn't mean he should be bred to lesser quality though). And you must have lowered your price as you did tell me $800 for the "rare" CKC liver pups.

Your post:

Ok, so you are fellow BYB then worrying that we are stealing market!

Well, first, prices are available on my website: germanshepherddogsidaho.com So let's stop complaining about it. CKC pups are $600 because it's not a very good registry. I also have AKC pups, and give people information on both registries, plus, we have Internet, people can do their research. People make their choices. There are people here on CL, breeding "purebreds" who are not good enough to even be allowed in a shit registry and selling them for $300-400, so I do believe $600 is fair. Moreover, those pups are fathered by great lines AKC male, big bonus for CKC pups. It kinda give people more price choices, not everybody can pay $850 from BYB for AKC pup or $2000 for reputable breeder AKC pup. Not everybody gets to drive Mercedes, some have to go with Kia.

Second, the dog who got hit was a rescue, and even though, we had her for awhile, she had a hard time with property boundaries. Unfortunately, when you live by the freeway, and dog runs off, it does not get second chance. Shame on you for hitting the painful spot. There are thousand animals and people being hit every day, let's blame every one of their owners and parents, heartless person you are. Whatever the case being rescue, she had a better life as much as she had it then being peddled from to home for few bucks as you promote.

Now, go get busy with something useful, so you don't have to collect your welfare check which is being taken from the taxes, I pay on my
