A-FU (pronounced "ah-foo", meaning "lucky boy" in Chinese)
 Formosan Mountain Dog Mix | Neutered Male | 6 years old | 46 lbs

A-fu, the miraculous dog that escaped death twice! He was first found clinging on to the netting of an apartment building, presumably pushed off the 16th floor in a terrible act of cruelty (see photo). Within two months of being rescued, he had another near-death experience at the vet, requiring emergency CPR. He survived, and despite his rough past he is now healthy and active. He is a very lucky dog, who unfortunately has not had the same luck when it comes to a loving home. Will you be his lucky adopter? Come meet A-fu, he is being fostered in the Bay Area!

Microchipped and vaccinations up to date.
 Please visit <http://www.harasf.org/afu> to watch videos of A-fu, and to read his full story.

After receiving an initial application, must sign adoption agreement and agree to a home visit to finalize adoption.

Donation of $325 (adoption fee) to help cover rescue expenses. Kindly keep in mind that our international rescues cost an average of $1200 per dog, for a dog without health issues. The bulk of our donations come directly from the dog's country of.
