First things first,
This is a post-hardcore/metalcore band, if that's not your style/area of preferred genre then please look elsewhere.

We're looking for someone with good energy, experience, gear, and transportation.

Preferably no one over 26, we're all in our early 20's.

Also, for the style of the music, I'd prefer If you played with fingers rather than a pic. I only say it due to prior experience with another bass player who wasn't able to keep up with speed and playing the proper chords.

We are currently in the process of recording a 6 track EP at Sound Lounge Studios that will be completed sometime in August/September depending on payments. The good news is, about a year back I took the courtesy of recording the instrumental demo versions of the songs with sampled drums from the producer and put them on soundcloud, that way any newcomers to the band have a reference to learn the music from.

If you're up for it and feel like being a part of something great with potential send me an email or shoot me a text with some basic info and I will send you a link of our instrumental roughs.
